NAOMI CAMPBELL will be awarded for her charity work next month at the Angel ball in New York, an event organized by the [Gabrielle's] Angel Foundation – which seeks to raise awareness of cancer research. “She really is an amazing woman and she does a lot for charity,” said the charity’s founder, songwriter Denise Rich. “She has her own charity. She raised a lot of money this summer for Haiti and for AIDS relief.” Campbell’s boyfriend, Russian businessman Vladislav Doronin, will also be honoured for his contribution towards cancer research. The event will take place on October 17 at Cipriani Wall Street, and will feature performances from Patti LaBelle, Eve and DJ Cassidy.
